

A Question in Every Port

Answers include a word that may precede or succeed the word 'port' to form a place name

1

Signalling

2

South Africans

3

Harry Potter

4

1960s pop music

5

Quotes

6

Birds

7

Screenwriters

8

International bodies

9

European football

10

Songwriters

11

Connections

12

English monarchy

13

Local buildings

14

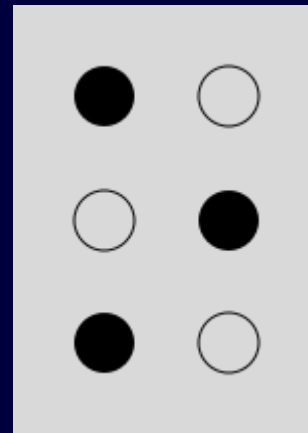

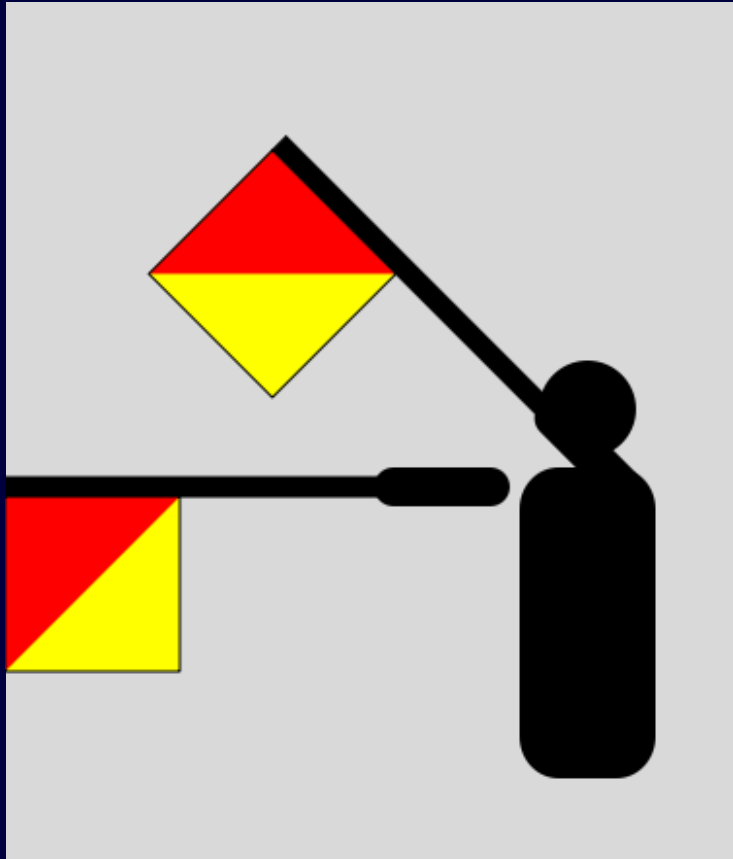

Fashion

15

Iconic British products

1

Signalling

What do each of these signals represent?

Who, on 20 August 1994, when hit on the head by one of a bunch of South Africans, uttered the words “You guys are history” and then took his own devastating revenge on nine of them?

What is the name of the actor who played the part of Lucius Malfoy in the Harry Potter films. His father was the TV documentary maker responsible for the series The World at War?

Who had a hit with the Smokey
Robinson song My Girl?

When James Whistler said to Oscar Wilde: “You will, Oscar, you will.” what remark of Wilde’s was he replying to?

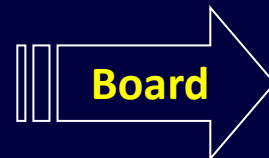

What type of bird is this?

Which screenwriter wrote what was, in 2007, voted the best one-liner in film history:

“Infamy, infamy, they’ve all got it in for me!”?

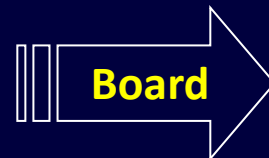

What is controlled by the international organisation known as the WBF?

Which team won the 2008 UEFA Cup Final beating Rangers 2-0 at The City of Manchester Stadium (as it was then called)?

Who wrote the Kylie Minogue hit
I Should Be So Lucky?

What phrase connects the Queen of Sheba (as referenced in the bible) and Dumfries in Scotland?

Who was the mother of the two 'Princes in the Tower' who were reputedly put to death by Richard III?

What is the name of this Grade II listed building situated on Quay Street in Manchester?

In 1852, who became box maker and packer to the Empress of France thus launching a fashion design business dynasty?

In 1947 Maurice Wilks used an army surplus jeep on his Welsh farm. This inspired him to create the design for which iconic long-lasting British product?